

Rhenus Freight East – Specialist for Markets in the CIS

Many German companies have set up their own business operations in the Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS) and the Baltic countries during the last few years. Their need for high standards in storage space and logistics services is constantly growing. Rhenus Revival has been operating a wide network of routes since 1989 and provides comprehensive services.

Rhenus Freight East has set up its own companies in all states of the CIS, the Caucasus region and Central Asia or cooperates with proven partners. The Rhenus subsidiary mainly employs local people at its 13 branches in the CIS and Germany. They speak the local language and are accustomed to dealing with bureaucratic obstacles. This mix of German logistics expertise and local knowledge of the country enables Rhenus to provide logistics services with Western European standards.

The Russian network consists of three branches in the Moscow region and one each in St. Petersburg, Ekaterinburg, Voronezh, Smolensk and Kaluga. In the Ukraine, Rhenus is represented in Obuchow near Kiev, in Belarus in Minsk, in Kazakhstan in Almaty and in Azerbaijan in Baku. The German locations are Dietzenbach (Frankfurt (a.M.)), Hilden (Düsseldorf), Großschirma (Dresden) and Bielefeld.

Rhenus is one of the leading logistics providers in these markets. The company provides the whole range of services including domestic and international shipments, consolidation and distribution across Europe, warehousing, supply chain management and consignments requiring special transportation.

The spectrum of services at the 30,000 m² of transshipment and logistics space in the CIS covers warehousing (including customs goods), order picking, pick & pack, customs services, provision of a temperature-controlled hazardous goods warehouse and transport-related interim storage in accordance with GDP requirements.

The transport services include daily departures for groupage freight, part loads and complete truck loads to Russia, Belarus and the Ukraine. The company also provides regular weekly departures for groupage freight to the Caucasus region (Georgia, Armenia, Azerbaijan) and Central Asia (Kazakhstan, Uzbekistan, other STAN states). The company transports more than 8,000 consignments each month and has 15,000 truck movements per annum. International special transport services can also be provided on trucks with a 20-40 m³ load capacity and heavy or oversized or special loads can also be handled.

Rhenus Freight East also provides rail services and inland waterways are used for project logistics services. If consignments are urgent, the Airfreight Office can arrange transportation to almost any airport in the former Soviet Union.

Rhenus has its own customs broker licenses in Russia and in the Ukraine. This means that the service company can greatly accelerate import procedures as a result of its expertise and contacts.
